FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

POET MILTON ACORN AT CONCORDIA

Canadian poet Milton Acorn will give a public reading from his works as part of Concordia University's "Visiting Artists in Poetry and Prose" series.

He will be at the Loyola Campus Vanier Auditorium, 7141 Sherbrooke St.W., on Monday evening, November 29 at 7:30 p.m. The reading will be followed by a reception.

Acorn, often described as the "people's poet", won the 1975 Governor General's Award for his volume of poetry entitled The Island Means Minago.

Further information concerning the series is available from the Loyola Campus English Department, 482-0320, ext. 534.
